“When my dealer asked me to try Kool Blue, my hopes were that the product could help my horse who seemed upset in his stall at feeding time. Never did I think I was going to see the benefits I saw. Within two days of being on the product there was a very noticeable difference. As time went on, not only was he happier in his stall at feeding time, but my horses’ performance was more consistent. I began trying Kool Blue on other horses in my care. I found horses will maintain their condition and composure throughout long hauls. On other horses who tended to be nervous, both horses and riders are now able to relax and enjoy their show experiences. My observation has been that even horses that are not excitable or nervous can attain improved performance and trainability while on this product. I believe now that many behaviors our horses exhibit are in fact stress related. Best of all, I am not using anything illegal to enhance my horses’ performance and trainability! I would recommend Kool Blue to anyone looking for these kinds of results.”
